ROADWORK AHEAD, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2013

Note 1 - Business Description

Roadwork Ahead, Inc. (the "Company") earns its revenues principally from construction contracts, which generally provide payment for various types of road construction and paving for governmental, institutional and commercial projects at specified prices. These contracts normally range between one to six months. Substantially all of the Company's contracts are performed within the state of New York.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Income on Construction Contracts

Due to the short term nature of the contracts, revenues from construction contracts are recognized under the accrual basis method of accounting. Under this method, revenues are recognized when billed and costs of revenues are recognized when incurred.

Contract Receivables

The Company's exposure to credit risk is dependent, to a large extent, on the construction industry. The Company routinely addresses the financial strength of its customers, and, as a consequence, believes that its receivable credit risk is limited.

The Company estimates the allowance for doubtful accounts based upon a review of outstanding receivables and historical collection information by customer. Normally contract receivables are due within 30 days after the date of the requisition. Contract retentions are generally due within 30 days after completion of the project and acceptance of the owner. Where the contract provides for guarantee retainage provisions, such retainage is generally due within one year of completion and acceptance of the project. Receivables more than 90 days old are considered past due. While such credit losses have historically been within the Company's expectations and the provisions established, the Company cannot guarantee that the same credit loss rates will be experienced in the future. Contract receivables are written off when they are determined to be uncollectible. The allowance for doubtful accounts at December 31, 2013 was $91,000.

Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost net of accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Costs of additions and betterments are capitalized and expenditures for repairs and maintenance are expense in the period incurred. When items of fixed assets are sold or retired, the related costs and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any gain or loss is included in income.

ROADWORK AHEAD, INC.
December 31, 2013

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company reviews the carrying values of long-lived assets for possible impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be recoverable. Any long-lived assets held for disposal are reported at the lower of their carrying amounts or fair value less cost to sell. Management has determined that there has been no impairment of long-lived assets through December 31, 2013.

Income Taxes

The Company has elected, by consent of its stockholder, to be taxed as an S Corporation for Federal and State tax purposes. Under those provisions, the Company does not pay Federal or New York State corporate income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the stockholder is liable for individual Federal and New York State income taxes based on the Company's taxable income.

The Company accounts for the effect of any uncertain tax positions based on a "more likely than not" threshold to the recognition of the tax positions being sustained based on the technical merits of the position under scrutiny by the applicable taxing authority. If a tax position or positions are deemed to result in uncertainties of those positions, the unrecognized tax benefit is estimated based on a "cumulative probability assessment" that aggregates the estimated tax liability for all uncertain tax positions. Interest and penalties assessed, if any, are accrued as income tax expense. The Company has identified its tax status as a corporation electing to be taxed as a pass-through entity as a tax position; however, the Company has determined that such tax position does not result in an uncertainty requiring recognition. In addition to its tax status, the Company has other tax positions that have been determined to be highly certain and therefore no reserve for unrecognized tax liability is deemed necessary. The Company is not currently under examination by any tax jurisdiction. Federal and state income tax returns are generally open for examination for three years.

Advertising

The Company follows the policy of charging the costs of advertising to expense as incurred. Advertising expense for the year ended December 31, 2013 was approximately $1,300.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 7 - Variable Interest Entities

Generally accepted accounting principles provide a framework for identifying variable interest entities (VIEs) and determining when a company should include the assets, liabilities, noncontrolling interests, and results of activities of a VIE in its consolidated financial statements. In general, a VIE is a corporation, partnership, limited-liability corporation, trust, or any other legal structure used to conduct activities or hold assets that (1) has an insufficient amount of equity to carry out its principal activities without additional subordinated financial support, (2) has a group of equity owners that are unable to direct the activities of the entity that most significantly impact its economic performance, or (3) has a group of equity owners that do not have the obligation to absorb losses of the entity or the right to receive returns of the entity.

A VIE should be consolidated if a party with an ownership, contractual, or other financial interest in the VIE that is considered a variable interest (a variable interest holder) has the power to direct the VIE's most significant activities and the obligation to absorb losses or right to receive benefits of the VIE that could be significant to the VIE. A variable interest holder that consolidates the VIE is called the primary beneficiary. Upon consolidation, the primary beneficiary generally must initially record all of the VIE's assets, liabilities, and noncontrolling interests at fair value and subsequently account for the VIE as if it were consolidated based on majority voting interest.

As of December 31, 2013, management evaluated the related parties (see note 8) against the criteria for consolidation and determined that no entities have been identified as VIE's that would be required to be consolidated with the Company under these rules.

Note 8 - Related Party Transactions

During the year ended December 31, 2013, the Company advanced monies to a related party under common ownership. A total amount due from this related party was $300,000 as of December 31, 2013. This advance is non-interest bearing and is not expected to be repaid within the next twelve months.

The Company also rents office space from a related party on a month to month basis. Rent expense for the year ended December 31, 2013 amounted to approximately $91,000. In addition, during the year ended December 31, 2013, the Company performed subcontracting work for a company owned by a relative of the stockholder. Contract revenues earned from this related party amounted to approximately $61,000.

Note 9 - Commitments and Contingencies

Multi-Employer Plans

The Company participates in a multiemployer pension plan ("MEPP") that provides retirement benefits to certain union employees in accordance with its collective-bargaining agreement ("CBA"). The risks of participating in this MEPP are different from single-employer plans in the following aspects:

- Assets contributed to the multiemployer plan by one employer may be used to provide benefits to employees of other participating employers.
- If a participating employer stops contributing to the plan, the unfunded obligations of the plan may be borne by the remaining participating employers.
- If the Company chooses to stop participating in the plan, it may be required to pay an amount based on the unfunded status of the plan, referred to as a withdrawal liability.

As one of many participating employers in this MEPP, the Company is responsible with the other participating employers for any plan underfunding. The Company's contributions to this MEPP are established by the applicable CBA; however, the required contributions may increase based on the funded status of the MEPP and legal requirements of the Pension Protection Act of 2006 (the "PPA"), which requires substantially underfunded MEPPs to implement a funding improvement plan ("FIP") or a rehabilitation plan ("RP") to improve their funded status. Factors that could impact the funded status of an MEPP include, without limitation, investment performance, changes in the participant demographics, decline in the number of contributing employers, changes in actuarial assumptions and the utilization of extended amortization provisions. A FIP or RP requires a particular MEPP to adopt measures to correct its underfunding status. These measures may include, but are not limited to: (a) an increase in our contribution rate as a signatory to the applicable CBA, (b) a reallocation of the contributions already being made by participating employers for various benefits to individuals participating in the MEPP and/or (c) a reduction the benefits to be paid to future and/or current retirees. In addition, the PPA requires that a 5% surcharge be levied on employer contributions for the first year commencing shortly after the date the employer receives notice that the MEPP is in critical status and a 10% surcharge on each succeeding year until a CBA is in place with terms and conditions consistent with the RP. The Company could also be obligated to make payments to the MEPP if the Company either ceases to have an obligation to contribute to the MEPP or significantly reduce its contributions to the MEPP because of a reduction in the number of employees who are covered by the relevant MEPP for various reasons, including, but not limited to, layoffs or closure of an affiliate assuming the MEPP has unfunded vested benefits. The amount of such payments (known as a complete or partial withdrawal liability) would equal the Company's proportionate share of the MEPP's unfunded vested benefits.

ROADWORK AHEAD, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Due to the uncertainty regarding future factors that could trigger withdrawal liability, as well as the absence of specific information regarding the MEPP's current financial situation, the Company is unable to determine (a) the amount and timing of any future withdrawal liability, if any, and (b) whether its participation in this MEPP could have a material adverse impact on its financial condition, results of operations or liquidity. The Company did not record any withdrawal liability for the year ended December 31, 2013.

The following table details the domestic MEPP to which the Company contributes to as defined by the PPA. The most recent PPA zone status available in 2013 for the plan's year-end was used. The zone status is based on information that the Company received from the plan and is certified by the plan's actuary. Among other factors, plans in the red zone are generally less than 65% funded, plans in the yellow zone are less than 80% funded, and plans in the green zone are at least 80% funded. The "FIP/RP Status" column indicates plans for which a financial improvement plan or a rehabilitation plan is either pending or implemented (if applicable). The last column lists the expiration date of the collective-bargaining agreement to which the plan is subject.

 June 30, 2013

 February 28, 2013

The nature of the Company's business may result in volatility of the amount of contributions to these MEPPs for any given period. That is because, the Company could be working on a significant project and/or projects, which could result in an increase in direct labor force and a corresponding increase in contributions to these MEPPs dictated by the applicable CBA. When the particular project(s) finishes and is not replaced, the level of direct labor would also decrease, as would the level of contributions to these MEPPs. Additionally, the level of contributions to these MEPPs could also be affected by the terms of the CBA, which could require at a particular time, an increase in the contribution rate and/or surcharges.

Note 10 - Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial Instruments, which potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk, consist principally of cash and contract receivables.

Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade receivables are limited due to the diverse group of customers to whom the Company sells. The Company reviews a customer's credit history before extending credit, and establishes an allowance for possible losses based upon factors such as the credit risk of specific customers, historical trends and other information.

Major Customers

The Company's customer base consists primarily of municipalities and construction contractors located in New York State. Although the Company is directly affected by the well-being of these entities, management does not believe significant credit risk exists. Revenue and receivables from these contracts may at times exceed 10% of the Company's total revenue and total receivable balance.

Cash Concentration

The Company maintains cash in certain financial institutions that may exceed the FDIC insurance limits.
